

Employee Health, Safety and Wellness

Promote Occupational Health and Safety in the Workplace

04th – 08th June 2018

20 Credits towards the Higher Certificate in Management

Premier Hotel O.R. Tambo, Kempton Park, Johannesburg

Course Outcomes:

- Understand the importance of employee wellness on productivity
- Build the capacity of line manager to assist in employee wellness programs
- Monitor, measure and report on the effectiveness of the HWS programme
- Interpret the different acts and policies
- Identify health hazard zones and manage health and safety of the working environment
- Explain the communication processes in promoting occupational health and safety
- Demonstrate the planning and execution of a project designed to promote occupational health and safety

Who Should Attend?

- HR Directors, Managers and Practitioners
- Project Managers
- Line Managers responsible for Occupational Health & Safety
- Corporate Human Resources Managers
- CEOs / CFOs / Financial Directors / Managers
- Employee Relations Managers
- Employee Engagement Managers
- Nurses
- Employee Assistants Practitioners
- HIV Coordinators
- Health Managers
- SHEQ Managers
- Benefits And Wellness Managers
- Employee Wellness Practitioners / Officers / Representatives
- Wellness Consultants

About your Presenter:

LLM (Labour Law), M.COMM. (HR Management), Diploma (Project Management), BA(Agriculture), Diploma(Agriculture), Cert.Bus.Admin

Your Facilitator is a well-known labour law consultant. Prior to that he was Group Employee Relations Manager at a well-known Multi National, where he was responsible for major wage negotiations, CCMA and Bargaining Council and industrial relations. Part of his labour consulting is developing training programmes according to the needs of government departments, unions and private companies. His training areas of specialization are Labour Law, Mediation and Arbitration in Union disputes, Human Resource, SHE and People Management skills amongst others. He is constantly involved in the development of new training programs. He is also a professional member of the S.A Board of Personnel Practice (Registered Personnel Practitioner- Industrial Relations) and South African Board of People Practitioners (SABPP).